State Librarian Appoints Michael Liang, CIO of San Francisco Public Library, to CENIC Board

(Sacramento) California State Librarian Greg Lucas has appointed Michael Liang, Chief Information Officer for the San Francisco Public Library, to the Corporation for Education Network Initiatives in California (CENIC) board of directors.

“Michael Liang will join the board as one of the three library representatives,” said Lucas. “Mr. Liang will be a strong addition to the board.” Liang has served as CIO for the San Francisco Public Library since 2012. CENIC board directors typically serve two-year terms.

CENIC is a non-profit organization that operates the California Research and Education Network (CalREN), a high-capacity computer network with more than 8,000 miles of optical fiber. The network serves over 20 million users across California, including the vast majority of K-20 students together with educators, researchers, and individuals at other vital public-serving institutions.

About the California State Library

Founded in 1850, the California State Library has an extensive collection of documents from and about the state’s rich history, ranging from books, maps, miners’ diaries, newspapers, and periodicals to photographs, paintings and posters. The State Library also holds federal and state publications, and is home to the Bernard E. Witkin State Law Library, and the Braille and Talking Book Library. www.library.ca.gov.
