$6,223 – $7,789 per month

Great Benefits and Retirement

Put your passion for libraries into action by joining the California State Library! Work collaboratively with libraries around the state, developing innovative projects and creating partnerships with public and private organizations. Identify trends and opportunities for funding grants and assist libraries in developing public outreach. Help design programs and training events for public libraries to develop key services that are responsive to local community needs. This job includes assisting California's libraries with planning, organizing, funding, and new technologies. Make recommendations for funding and monitoring grants, analyzing and reporting program results and developing new programs.

If you are a creative, progressive-minded individual with initiative and a desire to inspire library innovation, this could be the perfect job for you.
