

Worried about the microfilm phase out?

Have no fear! Sutro is here!

Learn to navigate Family Search and other free online sources for your genealogy research.

2017
September 13
11am – 12pm

Sutro Library Reading Room
J. Paul Leonard Library, 5th floor
San Francisco State University
1630 Holloway Avenue, San Francisco
sutro.library.ca.gov

To RSVP, email sutro@library.ca.gov
or call (415) 469-6100

Karina Robinson, M.A., is a Bay Area researcher and genealogist specializing in the historical content of the Americas and Europe, and serves as special assistant to State Librarian Greg Lucas at the California State Library.

Dvorah Lewis, MLIS, is the newest Librarian at the California State Library who specializes in both the Sutro collection and online genealogical resources. With a background in academic libraries and archives, she is excited to help students, faculty, and the general public learn how to navigate the State Library's extraordinary collections and resources.