

Highlights

Population Growth: Population in Palmdale increased by 31% over the past decade to 153,000, while Los Angeles County grew by just 3% and California by 10%. The most significant increases were in the Hispanic population (39,000) and in working-age adults (24,000).

Diversity: Palmdale became majority Hispanic over the past ten years. The Hispanic share of population increased substantially from 38% to 54%, while the white, non-Hispanic share decreased significantly from 41% to 25% of total. The black population remained constant at 14% of the total.

Age Structure: Palmdale is significantly younger than California overall with a median age of 30, compared with 35 statewide. The age structure has shifted upward since 2000, however, due to the large increase in working-age adults. The number of people age 65+ grew, but still makes up only 7% of the total population, compared with 11% statewide.

Households: Traditional families—married couples with children—are much more common here than statewide. These families account for 32% of households, compared with 23% statewide. Single-person households account for only 14% of households in Palmdale, compared with 23% in California overall. The majority, 60%, of people age 65+ live with relatives other than a spouse, compared with 46% statewide.

Education: Educational attainment is lower in Palmdale than in California overall. Just 15% of adults have earned a Bachelor’s degree or higher, compared with 30% of adults statewide, and 27% have not completed high school, compared with 20% statewide.
