FEELINGS

This Read Together Kit contains stories that are fun to share with one or many children. Combine these stories with any of the suggested songs and rhymes to create a feelings-themed storytime.

Titles in this kit include:

Toddler and older:
- A Kiss Means I Love You by Kathryn Madeline Allen
- Every Little Thing by Cedella Marley
- Grump Groan Growl by Bell Hooks
- My Heart Fills With Happiness by Monique Gray Smith

Note that the drumming and dancing depicted in this book are activities held sacred by indigenous cultures. We encourage readers to be mindful of this when considering any activities to pair with this book.

Preschool and older:
- Brave by Stacy McAnulty
- Gracias by Pat Mora
- Jabari Jumps by Gaia Cornwall

Early Learning Ideas:
- When you help a child name their feelings, it helps to grow their vocabulary and ability to more specifically express their emotions.

- Support the development of a child’s ability for empathy, an important social-emotional skill, by sharing a conversation about the characters in a book. You can start the conversation by looking at a page and asking questions such as “what do you think is happening?” or “how do you think they feel?”

- Movement games help to get the wiggles out and also help children to learn how to begin self-regulating, another social-emotional skill. Try calling out different movements for a child to imitate, alternating between fast and slow movements or starting and stopping.

Try variations of this song to demonstrate different emotions
